Every step you take

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

BIG Brother will soon be watching over us with a new free app.

MotionMap, which shows the movements of people and vehicles across the city in real time, will be available for the public to download next year.

Shoppers will be able to check out how busy their favourite hotspots are and track down the nearest available parking spaces.

Milton Keynes will be the first city to be covered by the app, which is being introduced in an effort to ease growing congestion concerns.

Daniela Krug, managing director of Building Intellect – the company developing MotionMap – said: “The idea is we can use MotionMap as a ‘busyness’ application to show how busy the centre of Milton Keynes is, how full the car parks are and how many people are on the roads and the buses.

“Firstly, a user might see the centre is really busy and change their plans to come another day. Or if they see the car parking spaces are all occupied, they might decide to take the bus instead of driving.

“In collaboration with other hard measures, we predict MotionMap can help reduce congestion in the city by between 10-20 per cent.”

The app will be available for download on all smartphones and a beta version will be trialled in September ahead of the full release.

Approximately 2,000 sensors with low-resolution cameras will be installed across the city. The ambitious project may provoke privacy concerns, but Daniela insists ‘only anonymised data’ will be used.

She added: “The footage never leaves the location of recording and the resolutions of the cameras are so low that faces and licence plates do not get picked up.”

Melanie Beck, manager of Milton Keynes City Centre Management, voiced her support for the app. She added: “A lot of time has been spent working to develop transport modal shift in Central Milton Keynes, most recently with the launch of the cycle hire scheme, which has been hugely successful so far. We look forward to this work coming together next year.”

MotionMap was discussed at a meeting of MK Data Hub last week and another MK:Smart project details plans for an app to map out the city’s redway network.

Programmers, designers and people with local knowledge will attend MK Hackathon this weekend at software consultancy firm JUXT to develop the mobile app.

Policy reviewed after foster carer attacked

MILTON Keynes Council says it has reviewed its guidance to foster carers after one person was subjected to a 'horrific' attack.

Christine Mackay was nearly killed by an adult masquerading as a 15-year-old asylum seeker at her home in July 2011.

She tried to claim damages from the authority but the High Court threw her case out on Thursday.

Milton Keynes Council believed the man, who called himself Aziz, was a 15-year-old unaccompanied asylum seeker from Palestine, who had illegally entered the UK in a lorry from Spain.

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council said: "At the time, social workers carried out a full assessment to gather as much information as possible on this young person.

"As a result of this case we reviewed our safer caring policy and have strengthened the guidance to carers in situations where we have limited information about the child in their care.

"This was a horrific attack on a foster carer and we would not seek to downplay this.

"But thankfully this is a rare occurrence and we would still encourage people to become foster carers as it is a deeply rewarding and worthwhile vocation."

Shell of a guess: Matt Knight, 27, with his football loving tortoise Me-Shell

Mystic pet is Euro's winner

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

DO YOU remember the Octopus that correctly predicted the outcomes of some of the games in the 2010 FIFA World Cup?

Well meet the Milton Keynes tortoise Me-Shell who has been doing just that for the Euro 2016 competition.

Owner Matt Knight, from Blechley, decided to give it a go after friends suggested Me-Shell could be as good as Paul the Octopus.

In 2010 during the FIFA World Cup in South Africa, Paul correctly predicted the outcomes for all six of Germany's matches.

Paul, who lived at the Sea Life Aquarium in Oberhausen, Germany, at the time, also picked Spain to win the final against the Netherlands. So far Me-Shell has correctly predicted the results of the France V Romania and England V Russia games. And on Monday night, the Hermann's tortoise predicted a draw for England V Slovakia – right again!

Mr Knight, 27, said: "I have had Me-Shell since July 2015 and came up with the idea after seeing the octopus.

"Me-Shell has correctly predicted France V Romania, England V Russia and England V Slovakia.

"Me-Shell lives on green leaves, but also has peppers and cucumber for a treat."

Mr Knight, who is an MK Dons season ticket holder, was backing Austria as an underdog to do well and France to win, but is now just listening to Me-Shell.

Community look for missing man

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

THE son of a missing man has praised the community for their efforts to find his father.

George Lanigan, 58, from Congreve, Tinkers Bridge, was last seen on June 6 and was reported missing to police four days later.

Since the news broke, the community has launched searches and put up missing posters across the city.

A Facebook group, Help find George Lanigan, has also been set up to raise awareness and George's son – who lives in Manchester – has thanked them for their work in his absence.

He said: "The news has been upsetting, but it is nice to see the impact he has had on people's lives in the community.

"I'm really grateful for all of their efforts and support and I will be, along with other members of family, making efforts to come down and assist in searches in the next week."

George is white, 5ft 11ins, of medium build with grey hair.

He often wears a distinctive beanie hat and a sleeveless jacket and is known to frequent The Moon Under The Water at Xscape and Fishermead, as well as Tinkers Bridge.

April Rennie, a resident of Tinkers Bridge who has known George for five years, said: "George sometimes suffers from confusion due to a head injury, but he has never been gone this long. He is such a friendly and well-known member of the community who gets involved in events and he greets everyone.

"We have searched local pubs and looked along the canal where he often walked, but had no luck so far."

Anyone with information on George is urged to call police on 101, quoting URN 1424 10/6.

Appeal: George Lanigan was reported missing on June 10 and the Tinkers Bridge community is rallying to help find him

Robbers snatch van after parcel delivery

A DRIVER'S van was stolen after he was threatened.

Thames Valley Police is appealing for information after the robbery in Woburn Sands.

At about 8pm on Friday a 25-year-old man parked his van in Turnpike Court, Newport Road.

After delivering a parcel he returned to his van and noticed two men stood by the side of it.

He thought one of the offenders was concealing a weapon under his t-shirt.

The men threatened the victim and told him to hand over the van keys.

The victim threw the keys in the road and ran towards Cranfield Road.

The two offenders got into the van and drove away into

Newport Road towards the garden centre. The van, a white Volkswagen Transporter, also contained the victim's wallet, keys, an iPhone 6 and other personal items, including documents.

The victim did not suffer any injuries.

The van was later found in Colne, Tinkers Bridge.

The first offender is black, about 30 years old, between 5ft 6ins and 5ft 10ins, of medium build, with black hair and black stubble. He was wearing jeans, a black t-shirt and a black zip-up hooded top.

The second offender is mixed race, about 25 or 26 years old, of medium build, with two studs in both ears. He was wearing all black clothing.

Thanks to good samaritans

ON MONDAY June 13 I had a cycling accident on the redway from Beanhill to Netherfield shops and I would like to very much thank the three people who stopped and helped me by calling for an ambulance and staying with me until the paramedics arrived.

They also very kindly called my work to inform them of the accident and secured my bike. I only have their names – Caleb, Tom and Hayley.

My apologies for the late acknowledgement only I had to undergo surgery and have only been home a few days.

My sincere thanks to these three people – it is good to know that in situations like this there are people who will help in a crisis.

Many many thanks to Caleb, Tom and Hayley.

Should they wish to meet up for a more personal thanks my name and address is below.

Remembering MP Jo

ON BEHALF of Milton Keynes Labour Party I would like to say thank you to the people of Milton Keynes for their support following the murder of Jo Cox, the Member of Parliament for Batley and Spen, on Thursday, June 16.

We are still very much in shock at the loss of this exceptional member of our wider Labour 'family' and we know that the country has lost an effective campaigner for social justice and a genuine force for good.

Many of our colleagues have also lost a personal friend. We know that the shock and sadness we feel is shared by many across the political spectrum and among those who don't normally have an interest in politicians too.

We also appreciate that people may wish to do something to support Jo's memory and further her campaigns.

The Labour Party has established an online book of condolences so that Labour members and supporters can send their own messages and express their thoughts at this troubling time. More details can be found at www.labour.org.uk/jo-cox

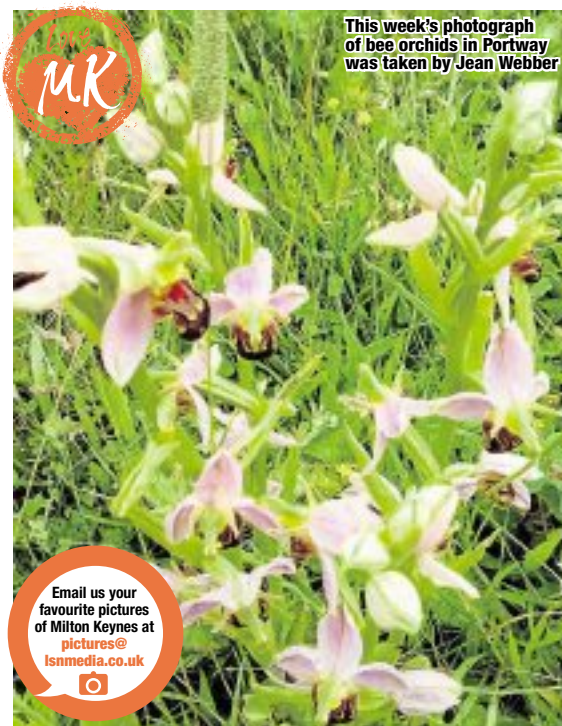

In celebration and memory of Jo Cox, her family are also raising funds to support three charities closest to her heart.

If anyone wants to donate they can do so here: www.gofundme.com/jocox

I would be grateful if you could share this information with your readers and social media followers and hope that this is useful to anyone who wants to remember Jo in a positive way.

Chairman
Milton Keynes Labour Party

Jon Brett

His column written exclusively for OneMK

I'VE discovered the ultimate way to beat the jams during rush hour – a Cessna 152!

This two seater aircraft is where most aspiring pilots take their first flight, including me when I joined the Cranfield Flying School last week.

The Cessna used for my inaugural flight is 20 years old and the cockpit reminded me of an old Triumph Spitfire. And there's not a lot of room – after checking the engine dipstick, my instructor and I squeezed in, shoulder-to-shoulder, side-by-side.

After completing the pre-flight checklist, we were given clearance by the control tower, and we were off!

Before I knew it, I was maintaining 'safe, level flight' over a congested M1, CMK, Willen, Olney and then back to Cranfield just 30 minutes later.

Take-off and landing is another lesson but this trial was exciting, fun and thrilling.

But I may have to think twice before going for my Private Pilot's Licence at the moment – the total cost is a cool £9,300 and then there's the small issue of buying and maintaining a plane.

I doubt I'll be flying my private Learjet anytime soon.

Your messages about waste workers leaving rubbish on pavements on our Facebook page

/OneMKNews

Caroline Saunders: "Maybe if people used the green bins for food waste, didn't put their rubbish out early and tied their black bags the problem wouldn't be so bad."

Dan Cochise Young: "The public need to put things in the right bags/bins. Our job is hard enough as it is."

Stefania Jefferies: "This is not unusual, you can tell when it's collection day as there is more rubbish lying around afterwards."

Chris Snook: "Bags get torn when the dustmen decide to come round and throw bags into one big pile. I have complained but nothing changes. I then go out to pick up what's been left behind on the pavement."

Paul Kenny: "My bin men turn up as early as 7am so my bins go out early. By the time the bin men have gone the rubbish is everywhere and not much can be done by that time."

Adam Brady: "Same on my street. I'm forever driving over mess that has been left on the street after collection day! My road is quite narrow so I have no choice in doing so!"

April Towell: "Some of the crews are brilliant. We used to have a fab bunch and I know it is not always the guys' fault. Residents need educating too and wildlife does not help. It is a mixture of things and we need to work together to get a resolution."

Muir Aaron: "I work on the bins and in all fairness the crew didn't have a shovel or tools to clean up the mess. None of the people on here know how hard the job is to clean up when residents put the wrong things in the bags."

Louise Whapham: "I have no connection to Serco or its employees but come on give the guys a break. They are employed to take rubbish in bags away, not clear up nappies off the pavement and he did try to. Put your rubbish in stronger bags."

Sessions have been held in the evenings at Milton Keynes College under the guidance of textiles artist Momtaz Begum Hussain, who was named one of the Top 100 influential crafters in the UK.

Meanwhile, five teams will take part in a Bake Off-style competition, with three of them being made up of representatives from disability charities McIntyre MK, SNAP MK and Camphill Communities.

On July 10 celebrity chef Murray Chapman from First Contact Chefs will be running a competition with catering students from MK College among others.

Up to seven student chefs will be cooking live on the main stage and will also be put to the test in an omelette challenge.

Ticket: The number of parking tickets issued in the city rose by nearly 7,000 in just five years

Worst roads for parking tickets

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

AFTER submitting a Freedom of Information (FOI) request, OneMK can exclusively reveal the worst streets for parking tickets.

Traffic wardens issued a total of 35,667 penalty charge notices (PCNs) in the city in 2015 – a rise of almost 7,000 in just five years.

Midsummer Boulevard convincingly came out top as the road where drivers were caught out most, with Avebury Boulevard and Silbury Boulevard completing the top three.

City centre streets unsurprisingly dominated the list, but none even came close to Midsummer Boulevard's total of 7,393 PCNs.

Out of the data issued in the FOI, Queensway in Bletchley showed the sharpest increase in tickets issued – rising a staggering 62.7 per cent in just a single year. In terms of the estates, Conniburrow came out on top with 377 PCNs issued last year.

Joy Cowell, chairman of Conniburrow Community Association, said she was surprised by the findings and insists illegal parking is not a big issue on the estate.

She added: "We have not had any complaints. Our proximity to the city centre was obviously a factor in these findings though.

"Most of the cars parked here are employees walking across to work. The only time we have a real big parking issue is during Christmas – they park around Germander Park School as it is free."

Second to Conniburrow in the estate rankings was Oldbrook with 262, while Bradwell Common came third with 161 tickets issued last year.

OneMK contacted Milton Keynes Council – which is responsible for issuing PCNs – but did not receive a reply by the time of going to print.

Calais trip stopped at border

PEOPLE in Milton Keynes who tried to deliver aid to refugees in Calais were stopped at the border at Dover on Saturday.

Dozens were expected from the city to make the trip to the north of France to help refugees, taking items such as children's toys and books.

They joined a wider group of hundreds of people from London, but after six months of planning, they were denied entry in Dover when they tried to go to France.

Michael Hutchence wrote on the MK People's Assembly Facebook page: "Authorities refuse to let aid for refugees at Dover."

"Today we were also denied free movement; something that thousands of refugees are denied every day.

"Not only is denying humanitarian aid to desperate people completely disgusting but it also shows how easy it is to take away the rights of others who do not agree with the Government."

"Solidarity with refugees and oppressed people everywhere!"

Flooding causes mayhem

SCHOOLS had to close in the city on Friday and a car was submerged in water in Stantonbury on Thursday after downpours caused chaos in Milton Keynes. Stantonbury School, Stanton School and Heelands School were all forced to close.

Delays at a landfill dropping off point also caused problems with bin collections at the end of last week with a revised timetable in force since Saturday. And a family of six had to sleep in their living room after the roof of their home in Greenleys flooded.

But one resident Tracy Humberstone was able to see the lighter side of the floods and she made a Baywatch-style video, which can be viewed at onemk.co.uk. The revised bin collection timetable is also available on our website.

'We need to act now on housing'

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

MORE housing could be built by Milton Keynes Council to address the homeless crisis.

An overspend of £2.3million on temporary housing was announced by the authority in the last financial year.

The current Labour council pledged to build 200 council homes during the course of its administration and at the full council meeting next month, the possibility of building its own affordable housing will be discussed.

Councillor Rob Middleton, cabinet member responsible for resources, said: "Housing in Milton Keynes is really tough – I'm asked each week at my surgeries about it.

"The market is becoming so tough that people on lower incomes and benefits are getting squeezed out.

"We do not think the homeless problem is going to get any better – it has reached a critical point and we need to do something now."

At present, 400 families live in temporary accommodation and in the last financial year the council received 1,231 homeless applications.

In the last 10 years private developers have only met housebuilding targets set by the council once and Cllr Middleton is urging central government to encourage developers to build more.

Places for People, which worked with David Wilson and Barratt Homes on new homes, schools and facilities in Brooklands, welcomed the council's plans.

A company spokesman added: "The proposal will increase the range of housing options available. The development of more new homes, in well-designed neighbourhoods, can only be a positive thing to those hoping to make MK their home."

One in 44 at risk of eviction

ONE in 44 people who rent houses in Milton Keynes are at risk of eviction, according to alarming new figures from housing charity Shelter.

The city is the sixth worst place in the South East for renters losing their homes, with only Slough, Dartford, Gravesham, Medway and Maidstone performing worse.

The situation in MK is worse than the average figure for the South East, which was one in every 71 renters.

The number of people facing eviction who are coming to Shelter for advice in England is rising.

In the past year alone, more than 9,800 people facing eviction nationally called the Shelter helpline for advice.

Nadeem Khan, helpline adviser for Shelter, said: "Every day at Shelter we hear from people who are struggling to keep up with their rent, many in total desperation after the court papers land on their doormat and the threat of being evicted becomes very real.

"It's natural to feel overwhelmed, but remember you're not alone – Shelter is here 365 days a year. So if you're struggling to keep up, or facing eviction and not sure what to do next, get expert advice as soon as possible. It can be the difference between losing your home and keeping it." SENSATIONAL SOLID TILED ROOF CONSERVATORY

0% FINANCE

0% APR Representative, Credit is subject to status. Terms and conditions apply

The new solid roof conservatory extension developed by Win-Dor is the ultimate in home improvements.

Alongside our more traditional Conservatories and Orangeries, they are also usable all year around but offer the customer yet more choice when it comes to design and aesthetics.

This new precision engineered roof allows customers to have an extra room that looks and feels more like an extension but can be installed by Win-Dor in a far quicker time and with far less disruption than a conventional build.

Worried about losing the light that a Conservatory or Orangery can provide, no need to be, skylights can be added to the Tiled Solid Roof to create a naturally light, bright and airy room.

YOU'RE SAFER WITH WIN-DOR

Many customers and installers are unaware that when you have a new solid roof conservatory or if you have an existing conservatory roof replaced with a solid one Local Authority Building Control Regulations are required.

If you would like to convert your existing conservatory into a solid roof conservatory extension Win-Dor will be happy to advise on whether it is likely you will be able to do so, and if the Local Authority Building Control will pass the upgrade and provide a Building Regulation certificate.

If you would like a brand new Solid Tiled Roof Conservatory from Win-Dor we will provide you with a Building Regulation certificate upon completion.

A5 death could not be avoided

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A CORONER thanked those who tried to save the life of a man on the A5 at his inquest on Friday.

Barry Keen, 30, from Medbourne, died at the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford after he crashed on the Caldecotte Roundabout on December 11.

The car overturned at about 10.40pm but Mr Keen escaped and walked up the embankment to the A5 where he was hit by two vehicles.

No-one could ascertain why Mr Keen decided to walk onto the dual carriageway, but he may have been disorientated. Cocaine was in his system but assistant coroner Elizabeth Grey said 'there was no evidence this had affected him'.

Three of the drivers involved were told they could not have avoided hitting Mr Keen due to the lack of lighting and that he was crouching or lying down. Mr Keen's partner, who has a child with him, cried throughout the inquest but Miss Grey, who concluded he died as a result of a road traffic collision, said: "Don't let this inquest be the final moment of Mr Keen, think about the happy memories and what people did to help."

"I would like to thank all the witnesses for their tremendous effort – none of you could have avoided what happened."

Dragon Boats make a splash

SUISSE Paddleports won the Milton Keynes Dragon Boat Race at Willen Lake on Sunday.

Nearly 700 representatives from Milton Keynes businesses were furiously paddling their 40 foot boats, aiming for glory and raising thousands of pounds for festival charity Age UK Milton Keynes.

Hundreds more people also watched the action from the riverbank.

Video catches waste workers

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A WASTE management company is investigating after a video showed workers leaving rubbish and dirty nappies behind on the path.

Bradwell Common resident Mark Sanders shared the video on social networking site Facebook, which has been watched more than 800 times and can be seen on onemk.co.uk

He claims that on June 7

Serco staff drove over rubbish before failing to pick up the contents of the bags they split.

He said: "It was the driver that drove over the bag in the morning and split it and then they didn't want to pick up the dirty nappies, which were all over the place, and found it funny that one of them didn't want to pick them up."

Serco has confirmed it is investigating and will take appropriate action to ensure it doesn't happen again.

Mark Sturgeon, lead contract manager, said: "We are disappointed that on this occasion we fell short of our usual high standard of service we provide to more than 116,000 households across MK every week and would like to offer our apologies to Bradwell Common residents.

"We do take this type of report very seriously and are investigating the incident and will take appropriate action to ensure this does not happen again."

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. "Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes &

Leighton Buzzard areas and manager Stephen Moon agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Stephen a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Ladies walk for Brian's bravery

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

FORMER mayors and mayoresses are taking part in MK Midnight Moo for ex-councillor Brian White.

Mr White, who was Mayor of Milton Keynes from 2013 to 2014 and MP between 1997 and 2005, retired as Labour councillor for Stantonbury in February.

But just as he was about to embark on a new life in Spain with his wife Leena Lindholm-White, he found out he had terminal cancer.

He said: "I have always suffered cramps but this time last year started getting internal cramps in my organs and as it got to Christmas I realised there was something wrong."

"They found masses on my kidneys, which they then investigated further and found I had a tumour in my gullet."

"A CT scan showed the cancer had spread into the liver and into my bones. It was inoperable."

"Walking for Brian" is a team of ladies showing their support for him and Willen Hospice, which is helping with his care alongside Milton Keynes University Hospital and Macmillan.

The team is so far made up of former mayor, councillor Catriona Morris, and former mayoresses, including Brian's wife and Vicki McLean.

Others hoping to join the team include Pete Winkelmann's wife Bernie.

OneMK and MKFM are also supporting the team.

Cllr Morris said: "Like many, we were devastated when we learned of Brian's news and wanted to do something positive to show our support."

The MK Midnight Moo is a 10-mile walk taking place on Saturday, July 16 on the city's redways to raise money for Willen Hospice.

Milton Keynes Council is keen to recruit people who can offer a safe and loving home for a child/young person in care. We are especially seeking carers for teenagers. As a Milton Keynes Council foster carer you will be provided with a generous allowance plus support and training.

Our foster carers come from all walks of life and across a diverse community. They offer children and young people a nurturing, caring home environment where they can begin to thrive and reach their full potential.

It's a challenging role; one which will always ask for a great deal of input and support from you. However in providing a home to a child/young person who is unable to live with their family for a period of time you will be creating a wonderful experience for everyone involved.

Criticism: The message on this A-Board outside Bar Bar Black Sheep in Wolverton prompted a customer to write a letter stating they would not be visiting again

Controversial letter

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A CUSTOMER has left a letter in an establishment stating they will not visit it again because of its 'promotion of homosexuality'.

Social enterprise cafe, bar and gallery Bar Bar Black Sheep, based in The Square, Wolverton, put a message on its A-board last week showing its support for the victims of the Orlando shootings.

The message said: "If the sight of two dudes holding hands bothers you then get your coffee elsewhere!"

#WeareOrlando." However on Saturday, a typed note was left by an unidentified customer that quoted verses in the Bible and stated: "I ask you kindly to refrain from promoting homosexuality further in the public domain."

"I simply can not agree with your blatant promotion of what is immoral."

"Children could walk past that sign and you could have a negative influence on decisions they make in life."

"I also think you'll find your coffee shop will become much more popular with the majority of residents in Wolverton, who are also members of local Christian churches. Please be sensitive to the beliefs of the majority in the future."

Meanwhile, a vigil was held at popular LGBT nightclub Pink Punters in Fenny Stratford on Saturday night, where a book of condolence has also been made available.

ExclusiveLGBT, which runs themed nights at The Galleon pub in Old Wolverton on the last Saturday of the month, will hold a minute's silence at its event this weekend. Balloons will also be released in honour of the victims.

Owner's plea after her 'fur baby' dies

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A DOG owner has been left heartbroken after her 14-week-old puppy died.

Shauni Hart, who works at Pets at Home, in Bletchley, is warning others to give their dogs all their jabs, after her little 'fur baby' Eddie, a Manchester terrier puppy, is believed to have died from the parvovirus.

As OneMK has previously reported, two young dogs died of parvovirus in March this year and Woburn Sands' vets Greensands was urging owners to check the status of their dog's vaccinations.

Parvovirus is a highly contagious life-threatening disease.

The symptoms include severe vomiting, depression, bloody and smelly diarrhoea, jaundice and pain around the stomach area; however, some cases show very mild, if any, clinical signs. Miss Hart has pleaded for people to vaccinate their dogs.

She said: "Spread the word, please vaccinate your dogs, keep them up to date with their jabs, please pick up their poo, please think of every dog owner and understand my heartbreak. Eddie had both his puppy vaccinations.

"He was only small, he was only a baby, and he was curious, loving and clever.

"I now wake up without my baby by my side knowing that I will never walk him by the lake again and I'll never watch him grow up.

"This is something that could be prevented, if everyone was responsible.

"Please, think twice, because your ownership and your actions, while they won't bring my gorgeous baby back, they might save another little one's life."

Santander cycles to rival Boris bikes

CYCLES similar to the Boris bikes in London have now arrived in Milton Keynes.

About 500 Santander cycles have been made available to hire from 42 docking stations across the city, including in Tilbrook, Bradwell, Westcroft and Broughton Gate, with another 50 due to be installed later this year.

For a £60 yearly subscription, cyclists get the first 30 minutes of any journey for free. After that, it costs 50p for every 30 minutes. A pay as you ride scheme is also available for £1 for every 30 minutes.

Julian Scriven, managing director of nextbike UK, which is looking after and maintaining the bikes and docking stations, said: "Parking is a problem in Milton Keynes and I've experienced it myself. This is one of the best cities, if not the best, for biking and this is a ridiculously cheap way of getting around Milton Keynes in a way that is also healthy."

Police bidding to raise money for charity on eBay

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

THE police took to Facebook this week to promote their latest appeal – for people to visit their eBay shop.

Funds raised from the sale of property that has come into Thames Valley Police's possession contributes to the property act fund, which via the Chief Constable, can provide donations to charity.

There are currently 10 items in the shop available for sale.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said: "This is used to allow for the disposal of property that has come into our possession."

"Property comes to us from various locations across the force whether it be found property, which is usually handed in at the front counters, or by way of evidential property, which is property seized during the course of an investigation."

"Evidential property is booked in and held in the Evidence Management Unit at the relevant station while the investigation is carried out."

"Once all enquiries are completed a decision is then made as to how best to handle the property."

"Where possible we always try to return property, however, there are times when this is not possible or appropriate or items are not collected."

"A decision is then made as to whether it is suitable for destruction, donation or can go to auction."

Similar eBay shops are run by other police forces such as Leicester and Sussex.

ITEMS FOR SALE

- Bugaboo Buffalo pram
- Braun electric shavers
- Kopeks Russian coin
- Halfords Advanced Professional Stubby Screwdriver
- Pride Colt Plus Mobility Scooter
- Gadget Shop speaker dock
- Ted Baker watch
- Lush bath bombs

Tennis tutor serving up inspiring lessons

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

PARENTS have praised a passionate tennis teacher who come rain or shine is giving young children free lessons.

Pete Tolaini, who has taught tennis for 25 years, is rolling out the Lawn Tennis Association's scheme by teaching children aged five to eight at Wolverton Tennis Club.

At the end of one of the six week courses, children get a free tennis racket and can join their local club.

Mother-of-two Bryony Barry, from Wolverton, took to Facebook when her daughter Francesca, aged five, turned up to her first lesson, but due to the rain was the only one of 10 who attended.

The 28-year-old said: "He could have just said go away and come when we have more."

"Francesca wasn't in the best mood because of the rain and no-one had turned up but for half an hour he taught her and made it fun and enjoyable.

Anyone for tennis?: Passionate Pete Tolaini wants to teach more youngsters about tennis. You can sign up at clubspark.ita.org.uk

"Pete is so passionate and really knows how to engage children at her level."

There is now a waiting list for some sessions as parents continue to be inspired by Mr Tolaini, but spaces are available. As well as Wolverton, the courses are also available at Great Brickhill Tennis Club, Milton Keynes Tennis Club in Woughton, Stony Stratford Tennis Club and Newport Pagnell Tennis Club. Mr Tolaini, 63, commented:

"I have as much fun as the children do and have lots of fun exercises to engage them."

"Not all schools teach tennis anymore and the fact this is free always brings people in."

"It is ideal for me as a coach as it brings both children and their parents to the club."

"I got the bug for tennis when my daughter started playing and with many houses looking onto the tennis courts I hope the word spreads."

Meet Betty, your robotic manager

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

HOW would you fancy a robot manager who checks you are not working too late and makes sure the office is not too hot or cold?

Transport Catapult has introduced Betty the robot into its offices in Midsummer Boulevard, Central Milton Keynes.

She is the first robotic office manager in Britain, programmed with the latest artificial intelligence software.

Betty will spend the next two months trundling down corridors and skulking around desks to monitor staff and check environmental conditions.

She will carry out tasks including patrolling the workplace, assessing how many staff members are in the office outside working hours, monitoring the environment by collating data on clutter, office temperature, humidity and noise, as well as checking fire doors are closed and desks are clear. She will also be tasked with greeting guests at reception. Betty is a highly sophisticated robot, running artificial intelligence-driven software developed by an international research team led by the University of Birmingham.

She is part of the £7.2million EU-funded STRANDS project where robots are learning how to act intelligently and independently in real-world environments.

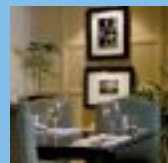

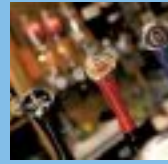

Transport Catapult's chief operating officer Mark Ruddy commented: "At the transport catapult, innovation and new technologies are at the core of our business so we are excited to be hosting the STRANDS project. Thanks to our ongoing work on autonomous technology, Betty should feel right at home."

"We hope that we can learn from her as much as she can learn from us. We have yet to see her interact with one of the LUTZ Pathfinder Autonomous Pods!"

It's Question Time

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A WOMAN who appeared on Question Time on Sunday and spoke to Prime Minister David Cameron has spoken about her 'amazing experience' on the show.

Catherine Jones, who is originally from Bradville, told Mr Cameron at the Arena:MK that she thought both sides of the EU debate should be ashamed of the way the campaigns have been fought.

Her chief reason for being there though was to champion the cause of mental health issues and at the end of the programme she grasped her opportunity.

The mental health worker said: "He shook my hand at the end and I put my hand over his other hand and said 'you need to help' and I looked him right in the eye. He said 'yes we will'."

"It was an amazing experience hearing all the different points of view."

Catherine, 30, also said that there were tight security measures, with people having their phones taken off of them when they arrived at the arena two-and-three-quarter hours before the programme began on BBC1.

Members of the audience went through two security checks but Catherine, who now lives in Rugby, said not having a phone actually made for a pleasant experience.

"Just discussing politics was an amazing experience and it was quite liberating not having phones because people actually talked to each other."

"There was lots of banter and laughs and there was no tension at all."

Debate: Actor, comedian and marathon runner Eddie Izzard met with students at Milton Keynes College's Bletchley campus to discuss tomorrow's vote

Izzard ignites Europe debate

EDDIE Izzard hosted a discussion with Milton Keynes College students ahead of tomorrow's EU Referendum.

After making a speech last Wednesday, the comedian answered questions and debated the pros and cons of the UK's membership.

He said: "I'm here to talk to younger people on this great vote – this is one decision that will affect the next 100 years."

Students hold EU referendum

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

STUDENTS at a primary school are not only learning about the European Union but are holding their own vote tomorrow.

Year Five students at Chestnuts Primary School in Bletchley have been deciding which way they will vote and writing their own speeches in class.

Teacher Michael Sears said:

"As a school we are the only global education centre for learning in MK, including global learning in the curriculum like politics. We look at current issues and get the whole school involved."

Year Six students will count the number of votes, with the result announced on Friday, but speaking to some of the young voters it looks like the majority will vote to leave.

The students said they have really enjoyed learning about the EU, as well as talking about it with their parents. They all agreed now they have learnt about it they will be sure to use their vote when they are old enough.

Abbie-Jane Gates, 10, wrote in her speech to the school: "I would vote to leave so we can take back control. We send 60 times more money to Brussels than we spend on the NHS cancer drug funds. We should spend our money on hospitals not the EU."

Our aim is to offer an exceptional carpet and vinyl service, with quality products and materials. If a jobs worth doing, its worth doing well.

Have you really thought about Inheritance Tax?

The Inheritance Tax allowance (nil rate band) is just £325,000 for single people and £650,000 for married couples. With the average Buckinghamshire house price sitting at £333,922 (figure from the Land Registry HPI March 2016) and the majority of people's wealth sitting in property, this means more people than ever before face Inheritance Tax bills. Gone are the times that it was only paid by the 'rich'. People who consider themselves to be an average working family will inevitably be hit by Inheritance Tax.

To give you an example, if your home is worth £500,000, which with house prices rising at a rate of approximately 5% per annum is very probable now or in the near future, and you have savings and investments worth £400,000, your Inheritance

Kirsty Morley CertPFS - Business Manager

Tax bill on death could be as high as £100,000 for married couples and £230,000 for single people! The government has offered an olive branch with a promised additional allowance for family homes of £175,000, but this will not take full effect until 2020, and even then, many people's estates will still be hit with significant Inheritance Tax bills.

Tax planning can be an incredibly complicated and daunting task if you don't know where to begin. There is also a stark difference between tax evasion which is illegal and tax avoidance and planning which is completely legitimate. Luckily with the right financial plan in place you can significantly reduce any Inheritance Tax liability that your loved ones may be faced with. It is important to start planning sooner rather than later and not leave it to chance.

There are many different options and strategies available including gifting money (within specified limits) ensuring you have an up to date Will in place and setting up trusts, but as always these are not easy to implement and manage without the correct advice and guidance. For example, did you know that upon marriage a Will is revoked, but divorce does not automatically revoke a Will.

If you are approaching retirement and/or considering early retirement and need advice why not get in touch?

We work with business executives aged 45+ who are ready to take their life and career by the scruff of the neck.

We are also offering a free pensions and retirement assessment worth £270 to the first 10 people who contact us before 8th July 2016.

A Stunning Difference That You Can See And Feel

Before

Problem

The conservatory was too cold in the winter, meaning it has to be locked up over the cold months.

The conservatory was far too hot in the summer, making it impossible to stay in for more than a few minutes.

Heavy rain hitting the old panels caused unbearably loud noises during rainy weather spells.

On sunny days the sunlight would break through the thin panels, causing bright glare on the screens of electronic devices.

Mould and mildew had formed on the panels near the roof beams, needing to be regularly removed to avoid an unsightly view.

After

Solved

The conservatory now stays the same temperature as the rest of the house in the cold, making it perfect for a large family Christmas.

The conservatory now never goes above 24 degrees, keeping it nice and cool for children to play in during the summer.

A soundproof barrier now keeps the conservatory free from external noise, making it perfect for quiet relaxation, whatever the weather.

The new solid roof completely removes glare, while a white plaster or cladded ceiling still keeps the room bright for activities such as reading.

The Comfortable Tiled Conservatory Roof requires almost no maintenance allowing you to enjoy your conservatory with minimal effort.

Based On Your Score, Your Comfortable Prescription

0-24 Your conservatory is exhibiting little to no issues. It's possible that you already have one of our many options. If not, however, there's no harm in making a long term investment now to protect your conservatory in the future.

25-49 Your conservatory is starting to show it's flaws. We'd recommend looking into our insulated ceiling options. The insulated ceiling is a low cost, efficient solution to many common issues with existing conservatories.

50-74 Your conservatory is fairly problematic but we believe that a Comfortable Tiled Conservatory Roof will solve all of your problems. Our bespoke roofs fit on almost any existing conservatory and enhance it in countless ways.

75+ Your conservatory is barely usable, or possibly not usable at all, but we have the perfect solution. A full upgrade will strip your conservatory down to the base brickwork and replace all the frames, the roof, doors, and sealed units, making the structure as good as new.

Wind in the Willows makeover for park

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

A PLAY area is set to undergo improvements with a Wind in the Willows theme.

The park at the end of Petworth in Great Holm will see new equipment installed and safer surfacing introduced to minimise the risk of children suffering cuts and bruises.

The project – which has an estimated cost of £80,000 – is the product of a collaboration between Milton Keynes Council and Great Holm Parish Council.

Councillor Zoe Nolan said: "We are delighted to see the plans for this play area in Petworth in Great Holm."

"There has been a lot of local interest and support and Milton Keynes Council has worked closely with the parish on the design."

"We are looking forward to having the new park installed very soon."

Written by Kenneth Grahame in 1908, children's novel The Wind in the Willows focuses on the adventures of Mole, Rat, Mr

Upgrade: After work on the Great Holm play park is completed, an official opening is expected to take place by early October

Toad and Mr Badger. The novel was selected as the theme for the play park's improvements as the name Great Holm means flat land by the river.

Shelley Bartlett, deputy leader of nearby Great Holm Pre-school and a local child-minder, expressed her joy at news of the improvements.

She said: "I am so pleased to see plans to upgrade our park at Great Holm, it was beginning to look shabby. I will be making good use of the new facilities."

"I firmly believe that having spaces for outdoor play is a very important part of child development."

Work on the play park is expected to begin towards the end of the summer and will take approximately three weeks to complete.

Once finished, an official opening is scheduled to be held by early October at the latest.

MANAGING director James Frost is this week sharing his gardening tips for what we hope to be a warm summer over the next few months. Read some of his advice and how Frosts Garden Centre in Woburn Sands can help you COTTAGE garden plants need regular deadheading, as do bedding plants, in order to keep them looking good and flowering continuously during the summer period.

Some plants such as hardy geraniums and delphiniums can be cut back hard to encourage new growth and to get a second flush of foliage and flowers.

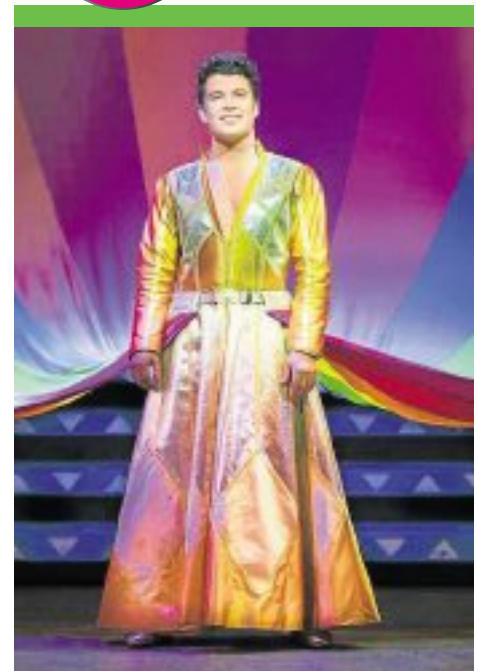

With the warmer weather and lush foliage keep an eye out for pests and diseases and treat as required.

Popular pests include the scarlet red lily beetle, which should be removed and disposed of. Watch out for scale insects on the back of bay leaves. If your dahlia or fuchsia get small holes and tears in the leaves they are likely to have capsid bug, you need to seek advice at your local garden centres on how best to treat these pests.

In the kitchen garden, harvesting is in full swing with peas, beans, beetroot and salad crops all ready to harvest, ensure that you also pick courgettes on a regular basis so that they don't turn into marrows!

If you have some large overgrown clumps of stately bearded iris in your garden this is the month to split and divide the roots and replant.

And finally if you haven't already, why not check out the new outdoor showroom at Frosts Garden Centre in Woburn Sands. It is the largest display of outdoor furniture in the region.

MK LIFE has spoken with X Factor winner Joe McElderry ahead of his performance in Joseph and the Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat, which is coming to Milton Keynes Theatre at the end of the month.

Speaking about his lead role, he said: "I know this is an iconic role but I just wanted to go out and enjoy it. It is a fantastic story and the audiences have already really enjoyed it so we have a good feeling about Milton Keynes."

Joe was selected to be in the production of Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber's sparkling family musical, which continues to enjoy huge success across the country with standing ovations at every performance.

Joe said even though it is a story based on religion people continue to love seeing it.

The show will be in MK from Tuesday to July 2 with daily performances at 7.30pm and matinees at 2.30pm on Wednesday and Thursday. There will also be a 2pm and 5pm showing on Saturday. Book tickets costing from £14.90 at www.atgtickets.com

SMASHBURGER, one of the fastest growing fast food restaurant concepts, has expanded across the pond with its first UK restaurant at the Kingston Centre in Milton Keynes.

The restaurant, which has plans to open a further 35 outlets in the UK over the next few years, has teamed up with MK LIFE to offer eight people a chance to win a meal for two.

Along with 100 per cent British beef burgers, the restaurant serves other tasty options, including juicy grilled and crispy chicken breast sandwiches; garlic grilled Portobello cap mushroom vegetarian burger; freshly prepared salads and irresistible sides like the garlic and rosemary Smash fries and crunchy veggie frites. It also offers alcohol including beer, cider and wine, as well as a range of creamy 'handspun' shakes made with Häagen-Dazs® ice cream in chocolate, vanilla, strawberry, Oreo and chocolate Oreo flavours.

Smashburger was founded by Tom Ryan, Rick Schaden and Consumer Capital Partners in 2007. Tim Lowther, managing director, said:

"Tantalising residents taste buds, we'll be aiming to turn more residents into burger connoisseurs, providing them with the ultimate fast casual dining experience."

To be in with the chance of winning one of these vouchers, which entitles you to any regular burger, regular fries and soft drink each for two people and must be claimed by July 31, answer this question:

When was Smashburger launched?
A) 1999
B) 2016
C) 2007

warcraft

I WENT into this film not really expecting anything ground-breaking – and it failed to not even deliver as much as I thought it would.

Having said that, I would still recommend people go to the cinema to watch it, especially in 3D, because the special effects are outstanding.

Warcraft is based on the hugely popular computer game World of Warcraft and it did feel like I should have played the game before I watched this.

Some of the plot points seem very clunky and there is some bad acting at various points.

But it looks like the majority of the budget has been spent on the special effects, which really are majestic in this film, and as good as any you will see.

Travis Fimmel is brilliant in Vikings, but he doesn't really make the jump to the big screen in my opinion.

Paula Patton, who you may remember from DeJa Vu and Mission Impossible: Ghost Protocol, is also a bit bland, which is a shame.

The story about the Orcs is fairly intriguing, but in terms of character development you won't really remember them on the basis of this performance.

"Everybody deserves a chance"

Family decides to downsize after over 150 years

As house prices head ever skywards, more homeowners are staying put for longer.

A recent Hometrack survey revealed that the average time between home moves is as long as 28 years in some UK cities; while a typical house changed hands every 10 years in the 1980s, that's now risen to 21 years.

Other research from mortgage and loan broker Ocean Finance suggests that about 60% of us have lived in the same house for more than 15 years, while one in ten say they've not moved for 31 years or more.

That's a long time at one address, but this striking manor house is pretty unusual as it's been in the same family for more than 150 years. Built by Andrew Martell's ancestors who made their fortune from the lead mining industry, he and wife Shelagh have lived in the imposing gothic-style Shotley Hall in County Durham for 35 years.

The couple are now downsizing and have just put their grade-II* listed Victorian home on the market for £1.35m. It's got 11 bedrooms, four bathrooms, and three big reception rooms. Highlights include traditional feature fireplaces and ten stained glass windows – many created by acclaimed designer William Morris – which give views of the 3.3 acres of grounds.

Designed and built in 1863, the former butler's and maids' kitchens have been turned into a kitchen diner, while according to agent Savills, the former servants' wing would make a great granny flat.

Northwood, the #1 Agent in Milton Keynes for Service

What an amazing start to 2016 for all the team here at Northwood MK! We're not even half way through the year yet and 2016 is already proving to be a record year of success. We started the New Year in style, taking the #1 spot for Milton Keynes on the allAgents website. allAgents is the UK's largest customer review website for the property industry and totally independent. With so many agent reviews available to browse in the area, we are proud to be ranked the number 1 letting agent in Milton Keynes and also incredibly proud to be ranked number 5 in the whole of Buckinghamshire, that's out of 456 branches!

This amazing achievement would not have been possible without, not only all the hard work of our amazing team here at Northwood Milton Keynes, but all of our wonderful clients taking the time to let everyone know how much they value the service we provide! With reviews being posted not only by our longstanding landlords and tenants but the property buyers and sellers we have worked with too, we thank you all!

Here at Northwood Milton Keynes, we strive to make every experience a positive one for all our clients and according to our All Agents feedback, we are succeeding!

"Northwood in Newport Pagnell are brilliant. They really take the stress out of buying and are excellent in all respects. I am not normally one to write reviews but feel compelled to because of the amazing service we got and want to pass this on to prospective buyers in the Bedford and Milton Keynes area. To all those in the Bedford and Milton Keynes area who wish to buy or sell their house, we highly recommend this estate agent. Try them - you will be delighted and then pass on your gratitude by recommending them to others!"
— allAgents Review

One great example of how we've been looking after our customers was the recent sale of a property in Milton Keynes. The owners of the property had been renting their property through Northwood, on our unique Guaranteed Rent Scheme, for around 8 years, before deciding to use our services to sell the property.

The property generated immediate interest, so the Northwood team decided that an 'open day' would be the most effective way to market the property, allowing maximum potential buyers to view, with limited interruption for the tenant. Such was the interest generated, Northwood was even able to achieve a sale of in excess of the asking price; consequently, the vendors were delighted.

Not only was a buyer found promptly, Northwood managed to find a buyer who was looking to purchase a property for investment purposes, meaning they were happy to take the property on with tenants in situ. This meant that the owners benefitted from a continuous income right up until the date of completion and the whole process, from offer to completion, took only 6 weeks!

The vendors were so pleased with our service that they arranged to have a case of wine delivered to the Northwood team on the day of completion, which happened to be the last day of the first quarter. What a fantastic end to a record breaking first quarter of 2016 and such a nice surprise. Its occasions such as these which make owning a business so rewarding.

Van drivers in the dark over EU vote

By: Ian Johnson

Jun 13, 2016

VAN drivers are in the dark over which way to go when it comes to the EU in or out referendum, according to research by Mercedes-Benz.

A study carried out by the German car and van maker reveals that most drivers don't know enough about the EU referendum to make an informed choice.

A quarter of Brits who drive a van for a living said they don't feel confident enough in their knowledge to know how to vote, while nearly 30% are unsure if Britain leaving the EU will have an impact on their business or the businesses they work for, meaning many of them are still unsure of which box to tick on June 23.

According to Mercedes almost 60% (58%) believe, to an extent, that the EU imposes too many rules on businesses, although a fifth (19%) of van drivers flagged concerns that working hours in the UK will worsen if the UK were to vote to leave the EU, with 40% concerned that it would be harder to trade with the rest of the UK.

Just over 40% (41%) believe that Britain's status in the world would be damaged by leaving the EU, making the country 'less secure'.

However, 46% of van drivers felt the country would have greater control of its borders if the UK votes to leave, with nearly 70% (67%) wanting Britain to reduce the number of migrants coming to the UK to work anyway.

The study revealed that at this stage, 22% of van drivers don't know whether they are going to vote to remain in, or leave the EU, while, a third confirmed they will vote to remain in, and 40% said they'll vote to leave.

Official figures from the Office for National Statistics (ONS) have shown that UK industry entered recession following two successive quarters of shrinking output. The ONS measured falls of 0.4% in both the final quarter of 2015 and in the first three months of this year – a technical recession for the sector.

However, the ONS also measured growth of 0.3% between February and March, highlighting further confusion for the public as to the state of the nation.

Steve Bridge, managing director of Mercedes-Benz Vans UK, said: "The nation's van drivers support the foundations of this country, so their unease in knowing which way to vote is a big indicator of the uncertainties facing the UK public as a whole. Our research highlights real concerns from van drivers, which needs to be addressed by both the Vote Leave and Stronger In campaigns.

"When you then factor in that the UK is in a 'technical' recession, but has also measured growth, it is no wonder that van drivers feel unsure of what to do for the best."

SEAT Ateca - First Drive

By: Jon Smith

SEAT may have been late to the SUV party but it looks likely to become one of the most popular guests.

Its new Ateca has all the credentials to challenge front runners such as Nissan Qashqai, Renault Kadjar and its own cousin, the VW Tiguan in UK's fastest growing sector.

Like the newly released Tiguan, the Ateca is built on the group's lightweight MQB platform which is used by Golf and Audi A3.

With a sporty image and priced to undercut the VW, the £17,990 to £29,990 SEAT range looks great in the flesh with sharp, racy styling and clean lines that should make it stand out from the crowd.

A subtle family grille dominates the nose but it's nowhere near as aggressively-styled as say the Hyundai Tucson.

First models go out to customers in September although order books opened on June 1. Three diesel models and two petrol versions will be available with a choice of either six speed manual gearbox or dual clutch automatic transmission, at extra cost.

Only the diesel models will be offered with four-wheel-drive.

Most makers of compact SUVs find that in UK the take-up of all-paw drive is small and SEAT anticipates no more than 15 per cent of Atecas will be all wheel drive.

Similarities between the Leon and the Ateca in the cabin are immediately noticeable.

The dash layout is clean and appears well laid out with switches and dials with easy reach. There's plenty of tactile, soft touch plastic but trim quality is a tad down on either Audi or VW, more on a par with Renault and Nissan.

Three trim levels are available but even the entry S versions have air conditioning and seven airbags as standard.

The top model - the Xcellence - comes with leather upholstery, and LED headlights.

Climb aboard the Ateca and you first notice its roominess. There's loads of shoulder space, more in fact than in the Audi Q3. In fact, it is marginally wider than the Audi, though fractionally shorter.

Rear seat passengers have ample headroom for six-footers and loads of legroom.

The boot, too, is bigger than most rivals with a capacity of 510 litres and 485 litres in four wheel drive versions.

An electric tailgate closes at the touch of a button. Sometimes the action proves a bit too leisurely - especially when it's raining.

Get behind the wheel, and the Ateca has that familiar SEAT feel with eager and accessible performance and a minimum of fuss.

I first drove the 1.4TSI (£20,960 in SE form) which pushes out 148bhp and accelerates to 62mph in a nifty 8.5 seconds and then on to a maximum of 125mph.

With light controls and a slick six speed manual gearbox it's easy and undemanding on twisty country roads or cruising down a motorway. The steering is a shade numb but that's not unusual with SUVs.

The TSI should prove cheap to run with CO2 emissions of just 125g/km and an official combined consumption of 52.3 mpg.

Roll angles are well controlled during brisk cornering. There's definitely a bit of hot-hatch DNA about this version of the Ateca and the free-revving 1.4-litre engine emphasises its sporty character.

The most popular version in the range is expected to be the 2.0TDI (£22,875 in SE form) which uses the VW group's ubiquitous diesel 148bhp engine.

A sturdy workhorse with gutsy performance and impressive economy, it is nevertheless somewhat audible at low idle and low speeds.

Press-on and relax the revs, and it quietsens to a distant murmur. Acoustic glass helps in making the Ateca a refined car for motor way cruising.

Acceleration is about the same to 60mph as the 1.4TSI but the diesel's extra torque makes it feel quicker when overtaking or in high gear.

Top speed is 116mph and the combined fuel consumption is 62.8mpg, about 10mpg better than the petrol model.

A 1.0litre, 113bhp three cylinder version will be also available but these are yet to roll off the production line.

It's hard to under-estimate the importance to SEAT of the new model - it will offer loyal buyers of the marque a chance of remaining within the fold as their families and grow. And it is sure to attract a high proportion of conquest sales to the Spanish brand.

Maserati makes Quattroporte quicker

By: Chris Russon

MASERATI is updating its flagship Quattroporte saloon with two new trims and some aerodynamic tweaks to make it even quicker. With changes to the nose including a more imposing grille fitted with an air shutter to reduce drag by up to 10 per cent, the V8 model – with its Ferrari-sourced 530hp V8 engine – now has a top speed approaching 195mph. The new models will be coming on stream in the summer and see the introduction of GranLusso and GranSport trims across the range which is now priced from £70,510 for the 3.0-litre Quattroporte V6 diesel to £115,980 for the 3.8-litre V8. Three-litre V6 petrol models cost from £82,750 – an increase of some £1,100. All of the new models now have matt black side skirts and redesigned door mirrors while inside the cabin has been updated with an 8.4-inch high definition touchscreen and a restyled centre console which incorporates a new phone storage area. Apple CarPlay and Android Auto smartphone mirroring functions are now included as part of the car's connectivity systems while adaptive cruise control, lane departure warnings and automatic emergency braking systems are among new options. So is a surround view camera. The new trims will be available on the V6 models priced from £78,910 for the diesel and £91,150 for the petrol Quattroporte and will be standard on the V8. GranLusso models have subtle spoilers front and rear with chrome detailing in the nose and sit on 20-inch alloys while inside they feature luxury appointments including silk fabric trim. The GranSport finish is designed to give the Quattroporte a more aggressive stance and it comes with 21-inch wheels, gloss black bumpers and red brake calipers. The interior features sports seats, stainless steel pedals and aluminium paddle shifters as well as piano black trim. There's also the option of a carbon pack for the body with coverings on the door mirrors, centre pillars, door handles and bumpers. While the engines and 0 to 60 acceleration times remain unchanged, the slipper body styling moves the top speed of the diesel up to 157mph, the V6 petrol to 179 and the V8 to a maximum of 194mph.

JLR HEADS DOWN TO RIO

By: Chris Russon

JAGUAR Land Rover has opened its first wholly-owned factory outside of the UK with a new £240 million production plant in Brazil to build the Range Rover Evoque and Land Rover Discovery Sport. The factory, which includes an education and business centre, is in Rio de Janeiro and will produce models for the Brazilian market where Land Rover already has a 33 per cent stake of the premium SUV market. Wolfgang Stadler, JLR's executive director for manufacturing, said: "The opening of Jaguar Land Rover's new world-class facility in Brazil marks the latest exciting milestone in our global expansion." "Land Rover is already Brazil's market-leader for mid-sized premium SUVs, accounting for more than 30% of all sales in that segment. The Range Rover Evoque and the Land Rover Discovery Sport will now be manufactured for the first time in Latin America, building on their existing popularity with customers in Brazil." The plant includes Jaguar Land Rover's first overseas Education Business Partnership Centre which will provide a range of classroom activities for up to 12,000 local children each year to will help them to develop key skills, work awareness and inspire them to pursue rewarding careers at Jaguar Land Rover. The factory, in Itatiaia, is the company's first wholly-owned overseas facility and marks a further phase in its global expansion strategy following the opening of its Chinese joint venture factory in 2014. Since 2010 JLR has invested more than £11 billion in new projects – including the opening of a new engine plant in Wolverhampton in the West Midlands – and now employs more than 38,000 people in the UK. The company, which is now the largest automotive manufacturer in Britain with factories at Solihull, Castle Bromwich in Birmingham and at Halewood on Merseyside, has seen sales double since 2009 and last year sold a record 487,065 vehicles worldwide.

ABARTH TURNS UP HEAT WITH NEW 595

By: Chris Russon

ITALIAN hot hatch specialist Abarth is putting even more sting in the tail of its latest model with a new 595 that's quicker and more affordable than before. The new Abarth 595 is priced from £15,090 with the line up topping out at £22,290 for a convertible in high performance Competizione trim. Three specifications are available, all powered by a 1.4-litre T-jet turbo engine with various amounts of boost taking power from 145 horsepower to 165 in the mid-range Turismo models and up to 180hp for the Competizione. Open top versions are available in all three grades and carry a £2,000 premium. The new Abarths have larger front air intakes for greater engine cooling, redesigned rear diffusers and sit on 17-inch lightweight alloy wheels which are designed to provide extra ventilation for the braking system. Inside, the cockpit of the 595 has also been updated with a flat-bottomed sports steering wheel which on the Competizione is carbon fibre and covered in Alcantara. Sports seats and colour-coded facias are also included and the new models have revised instrumentation as well as a Beats audio system and a touchscreen which is hooked up to the Uconnect Live information service. An upgraded version of the Uconnect set up is also available and includes Abarth Telemetry for gauging driving performance as well as preloaded points of interest for fans of the famous Scorpion badge marque. The Competizione, priced from £20,290, is a true enthusiast's model and comes with a Record Monza exhaust system and can also be fitted with a mechanical limited slip differential to enhance handling. Other specialist features include Koni shock absorbers and Brembo brakes to accommodate the 595 Competizione's 0 to 60 acceleration time of 6.7 seconds and 140mph maximum. A Sport mode has also been fitted across the line up which changes throttle response and steering feel as well as switching the instrument read outs to a 'racing' configuration. Despite the hot hatch credentials Abarth claims an official fuel return of 47mpg with emissions of 139g/km for all versions of the 595. Fifteen body colours are now available including a vibrant Modena Yellow which Abarth had previously reserved for its flagship 695 Biposto Record – a model dubbed the world's smallest supercar. Personal touches can be added with a choice of three custom packs with Abarth side stickers, mirror caps and front and rear bumper inserts in white, black or red.

NEW SKODA KODIAQ 'BEARS' ALL By: Mike Torpey

SKODA'S new SUV the Kodiaq is due to hit UK streets later this year and the Czech brand has released sketches that highlight exactly how appealing the newcomer will prove.

Design chief Jozef Kaban is the man behind the stylish looks, set off with a highly recessed shoulder line, sculptured rear section and long wheelbase.

Flat, raked headlights are positioned on both sides of a wide grille, their appearance paying homage to traditional Czech crystal glass art.

Skoda says the Kodiaq, named after the 3,500 Kodiak bears that live on a remote island off the southern coast of Alaska, will be available with two extra seats in the third row as an optional extra.

Otherwise the SUV will have the largest boot in its area of the new car market.

Kaban said: "The Skoda Kodiaq is a pioneer for our brand in two respects. We are entering a new segment with our first large SUV above the Yeti. "And at the same time, the Kodiaq is the first model with the new Skoda SUV design language. It is powerful and emotive, but also timeless."

RACE-BRED MINI UP FOR THE CHALLENGE

BY: MIKE TORPEY

A NEW race-bred MINI is about to hit UK streets as a strictly limited edition model. Called the MINI John Cooper Works Challenge, it is based on the fiery MINI JCW Hatch variant but adds some upgrades to make it more track focused. The Challenge bit refers to the racing series that has been running since 2002. And with that in mind the MINI development team in Oxford has worked with the racing car's key suppliers to ensure the newcomer 'delivers bespoke track performance to levels never before seen in the small hot hatch class'. Limited to a maximum of 100 cars, the model features a unique colour combination and graphics, genuine MINI JCW Pro Accessories, and is available in one fixed specification only with a tab of £32,000. The new special edition uses the latest MINI John Cooper Works Hatch as its basis – itself the most potent MINI ever produced – and is powered by a 2.0-litre twin turbo engine developing 231bhp. It uses a six-speed manual transmission, can scorch from 0-62mph in 6.3-seconds, has a top speed of 153mph, yet can return 42.2mpg with CO2 emissions of 155g/km. Bespoke styling includes enlarged air intakes at the front for increased cooling, contoured wheel arch extensions and a rear spoiler, while the cabin features John Cooper Works sports seats and sports steering wheel. Satisfied with the car's degree of power, the engineering team concentrated more on the Challenge model's chassis, tyres and braking. So the car is supplied with recommended settings for both road and track driving, the damper units offering adjustment through numerous 'clicks', though owners can choose to experiment with their own settings to tune the car to their own tastes. And it comes shod with 17-inch Michelin Pilot Sport Cup 2 tyres, original equipment for a host of high-performance cars, plus grooved and part-drilled 330mm front disc brakes with four-pot Brembo-developed calipers. The new John Cooper Works Challenge also uses the MINI JCW Pro Accessories like splitters and spoiler add-ons already available for John Cooper Works Hatch. Every Challenge model is painted in White Silver, can be readily identifiable by a bespoke graphics package, black roof and mirror caps and also has the alloy wheels finished in black.

ASTON MARTIN DB11 TAKES TO THE HILL BY: MIKE TORPEY

SUPERCAR fans will get the chance to see the stylish new Aston Martin DB11 up and running for the first time at next week's Goodwood Festival of Speed. The 600bhp, 5.2-litre twin-turbo V12 GT stunner will be on display in the Michelin Supercar Paddock during the Festival weekend and will be driven up Goodwood's 1.16-mile hillclimb by Aston Martin chief Andy Palmer. Aston will also give its Vantage GT8 – the lightest and most powerful V8-powered Vantage ever built – its first UK public runs at Goodwood, driven in a timed run category by the company's works driver Darren Turner. And a year on from its global unveiling at the Festival of Speed, Aston Martin's track-only supercar the Vulcan will be back to tackle the hillclimb, also with Turner behind the wheel. The £155,000 DB11 – the first product launched under the company's 'Second Century' plan – can also be seen as a static display at Goodwood as part of the Moving Motor Show. Alongside it will be the Rapide S model, which will also be available for visitors to experience along with the V12 Vantage S Coupe and Vanquish Volante. Meanwhile, the Vantage GT8 will be on display in the Supercar Paddock during the main Festival of Speed weekend. Inspired by the company's GTE race car programme, only 150 examples of the £165,000, 4.7-litre GT8 will be built and all have already been sold.

Hundreds attend rugby festival

Festival of rugby: Teams take each other on during MKRUGGERFEST

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

HUNDREDS of people came out for a festival of rugby at Milton Keynes Rugby Club in Emerson Valley on Saturday.

MKRUGGERFEST included a host of different tournaments for men and women that were held for the 43 teams that competed throughout the day.

Organiser Andrew Flowers said he thought it was the best festival that had ever been held at Milton Keynes Rugby Club.

"Without a shadow of a doubt it was the best event we have ever had," said Andrew.

"I feel that we're really establishing ourselves and Milton Keynes can continue to enjoy this in the future."

The annual MKRUGGERFEST is now one of the biggest Rugby 7s festivals in England and they have been rolling out the red rug to rival teams from all over the country.

Among the teams that competed at the Emerson Valley Sports Pavilion were the Hungary national team.

They lost 31-17 in the Men's Open Zoti Sports Cup final to North Walsham.

There were a host of other competitions as well, including the men's elite tournament, which was won by Apache Braves as they defeated Colchester Wise Monkeys 40-0.

The Men's Open Shield final saw Newbold RFC defeat Brumbarians 31-15.

In terms of how the local teams got on, MK Zulu Warriors reached the final of the Men's Open Bowl which was a good achievement but unfortunately they were beaten 35-26 by Cobras Rugby.

Olney Hammerheads were knocked out by the Hungarian team, while Olney Rascals were beaten in the quarter-finals, going down to a 19-10 defeat to North Walsham.

In the Women's Open Finals, FRN beat Buckingham Swans 31-0. FRN were a last-minute addition to the tournament as they were struggling to raise a team. But not only did they manage to get a team together, they beat all of their rivals to win their competition.

As well as the rugby there was live music throughout the day, while there were also plenty of food stalls and children's play activities for people to get involved with.

Andrew reckoned that up to £1,000 had been raised for Willen Hospice thanks to the event, while the club would benefit to the tune of around £7,000, which will help through the quiet summer months until the season begins again.

The event took place just a week after club chief Gary Spinks and friends returned from a hell and high water London to Paris mission which saw them raise £20,000 and counting for MK youth rugby.

Smith, 14, falls just short of an outing at Wimbledon

BY CHARLIE BENNETT

editor@onemk.co.uk

MILTON Keynes tennis starlet Dylan Smith insisted he could still hold his head up high despite falling just short of a dream outing at Wimbledon.

As the likes of British number one Andy Murray, Novak Djokovic and Serena Williams prepare for this month's Wimbledon assault, Baker had the chance to book himself a spot at the world-famous venue as he competed in the HSBC Road to Wimbledon East Regional Qualifier at Gosling Sports Park in Welwyn Garden City.

The 14-year-old Ousedale School pupil was playing for a spot at August's National Finals of the HSBC Road to Wimbledon 14 & Under Challenge at the All England Club.

But despite falling short of a memorable outing at the famous SW19 courts, Milton Keynes Tennis Club's Smith is adamant we haven't seen the last of him after losing to Daniel Webb 3-6 5-7 in the final.

"It was pretty close. I would have won if I held my serve better," he said.

"I am pleased with how I got on but disappointed I didn't get through to Wimbledon, although not everyone can. It was an intense match and I was unlucky."

"I have been consistent throughout and I did not make too many errors. It has been a really good tournament and I will learn from it and become a better player."

The HSBC Road to Wimbledon National 14 & Under Challenge, the UK's largest grass court tournament, forms part of HSBC's investment in grassroots tennis.

Each year more than 10,000 youngsters take part in the series of national tennis tournaments, helping to inspire the next generation of Wimbledon stars to take their tennis careers from the back garden to Centre Court.

Judy Murray attended the event and she was impressed with what she saw from the crop of 2016. She said: "Going along and receiving coaching on how to hit the ball properly is one thing but competitive opportunities at a young age need to be fun and stimulating because you want them to enjoy the sport and keep coming back. In my opinion it doesn't get more stimulating than the ultimate prize of being able to play at Wimbledon."

"Wimbledon is one of those places that is on most people's bucket list or it is their dream to go there but for most people they are only able to see it on the television so this is creating a wonderful opportunity for kids."

Team involved in the women's tour

CITY based Drops Cycling Team were in the midst of five days of pulsating racing action in the Aviva Women's Tour.

Starting in Southwold on the east coast on Wednesday last week, there were stage finishes in Norwich, Stratford-upon-Avon, Chesterfield, Stoke and, closest to MK, the finishing stage into Kettering.

The six strong Drops line-up featured Alice Barnes, winner of the Lincoln GP in early May and of a round of this year's Matrix Fitness Grand Prix just two weeks ago in Stevenage, Team GB U23 cyclo-cross star Hannah Payton and Laura Massey.

They faced a star filled line-up including number one female cyclist in the world Lizzie Armitstead.

Barnes finished 12th in the final stage, which was the best finish they had in the entire race.

Team patron Bob Varney said: "They've all worked selflessly for each other and I can't be more proud about that."

ICE HOCKEY

MK LIGHTNING have secured the services of Czech forward Frankie Bakrlik for the 2016-17 season. He has a reputation as a proven goalscorer who refuses to be intimidated in his pursuit of points. Since his arrival in Milton Keynes last November he made his mark with his uncompromising style of play – and in 32 league games scored 41 points and became the club's third highest goalscorer.

The club's head coach, Pete Russell, said: "Frank is the best power forward in the league and scores big goals so he brings so much to our group. He is a great team player and wants to win."

BADMINTON

ENGLISH mixed doubles pairing Ben Lane and Jessica Pugh notched up their first international senior title of 2016 at the Spanish International.

The fourth seeds in Madrid were imperious throughout the competition, sweeping Jakub Bitman and Alzbeta Basova aside in straight sets in the semi-finals to reach Sunday's final in style.

And Lane and Pugh did not disappoint in the final, eventually triumphing 21-14 15-21 21-14 over French pairing Gaetan Mittelheisser and Emilie Lefel

ATHLETICS

MARSHALL Milton Keynes Athletics Club athletes won four bronze medals, including three in the triple jump, at the England AA track & field championships held in Bedford. Laura Zialor made it to the U20 podium for the second consecutive week with a performance of 12.21m. Jamil Hassan recovered from injury to take the U20 men bronze with a huge personal best of 14.46m (adding 33m to his 2015 best). This is the fourth best jump in the club's all-time rankings for this discipline. The in-form Kayleigh Presswell won bronze in the under 23 ladies hammer throwing the 4kg implement a distance of 54.32m. In the track and field leagues both the club's senior and under 15 athletes were in action and both finished second in their respective leagues.

Hard luck: Daniel Ricciardo competes in Baku, Azerbaijan, at the European Grand Prix

More disappointment for Ricciardo in Azerbaijan

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

THE disappointment continued for Red Bull driver Daniel Ricciardo at the European Grand Prix in Baku, Azerbaijan, on Sunday.

Ricciardo started on the front row of the grid in second position but he went backwards during the race and ended seventh, which was a major disappointment for him.

"We need to understand why because we usually perform well in hot races," said Ricciardo.

"It was a bit unexpected. I got everyone's hopes up by saying it could be the race of the season. It was, however, pretty uneventful.

"I went from being very optimistic about our race to being uncertain. "I don't think we had the wrong strategy, one stop would have been ideal but we had to adapt and were forced into a two stop race."

Team principal Christian Horner admitted that he was frustrated with how the race went.

"Ultimately it was a disappointing result after having started on the front row of the grid but on the supersoft and the soft tyre for both drivers we appeared to get into quite a lot of degradation as early as laps four and five.

"That situation didn't change after the first stop onto the soft tyre, where again both cars reported high degradation very early, on a tyre that was supposed to go to the end of the race. It was a frustrating race but at least we got both cars to finish and we extended our lead over Williams in the constructor standings."

Red Bull's Max Verstappen came home eighth having started from ninth. He said: "Of course you want to finish higher up but that was not possible."

And the bad times continue for former Red Bull driver Daniil Kvyat as he had to retire from the race.

Nico Rosberg emerged as the overall victor with Ferrari's Sebastian Vettel second and the Force India of Sergio Perez coming home third. Lewis Hamilton finished fifth.

The next Grand Prix will take place in Austria on Sunday, July 3.

Dons due to find out when they will play rivals

MK DONS find out their fixture list for the upcoming League One season today.

The first clash that most people will be looking for is the game against AFC Wimbledon, although the club's fixture against other fierce rivals Peterborough United will also attract a lot of attention.

Dons fans will travel 4,926 miles in League One this season.

The shortest trip of the season is to Northampton Town, which is just one junction up the M1 and a round trip of 45 miles.

The return journey to Oxford United is just 91 miles.

The 396-mile round trip to Fleetwood Town, just north of Blackpool, is the longest of the season, but there are a few 300 miles plus journeys for fans to contend with, including Bolton Wanderers (337), Bradford City (317), Bury (331), Oldham Athletic (330) and Rochdale (344).

There was confusion this week over when the League Cup draw would be made, but the Football League announced yesterday that the first round draw would be made today alongside the release of the league fixtures. Normally it is drawn the day before the league fixtures are announced.

Two years ago Dons beat Manchester United 4-0 in the competition.

Meanwhile, former Dons centre back Antony Kay has joined Bury on a two-year deal.

Kay was released by Dons at the end of the season following the club's relegation from the Championship.

The 33-year-old had been at the club since 2012 and helped Dons to promotion to the Championship in 2014-15.

Yesterday the club revealed their new kit for the 2016-17 season.

Their three kits are white, red and black, with the keeper jerseys being yellow, green and pink.
